

My Mother.

I've got about twenty friends. They are mostly from my primary school and kindergarten. However I've known one of them since my birth and she has been a good friend since I was born. That's my mum.

My mum talks to me about a lot of things. For example, she teaches me how to spend money. She told me that if there is a cute expensive toy, I shouldn't buy it because it will be a waste of money. The toy will be useless after I've bought it.

We often spend a lot of time together. We watch TV, play badminton, go to tours and play Monopoly. Monopoly is our favourite game because it is fun and interesting. We always play it when we are free. My mum always loses. My brother and I always win. Our favourite country is Korea because we can ski and build snowmen in the winter. Sometimes we can play snow fight and smack each other with snowballs.

Mum often takes me to the library in Causeway Bay. We usually read The Land of Stories.

My mum is also the bravest. I like it when she does dangerous things such as climbing rocks and standing on slippery rocks to watch the sea view.

When I grow up I want to be the same as her.
